Scripture: Nehemiah 2:1-10 (NLT)

2 Early the following spring, in the month of Nisan, during the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes' reign, I was serving the king his wine. I had never before appeared sad in his presence. 2 So the king asked me, "Why are you looking so sad? You don't look sick to me. You must be deeply troubled."

Then I was terrified, 3 but I replied, "Long live the king! How can I not be sad? For the city where my ancestors are buried is in ruins, and the gates have been destroyed by fire."

4 The king asked, "Well, how can I help you?" With a prayer to the God of heaven, 5 I replied, "If it please the king, and if you are pleased with me, your servant, send me to Judah to rebuild the city where my ancestors are buried."

6 The king, with the queen sitting beside him, asked, "How long will you be gone? When will you return?" After I told him how long I would be gone, the king agreed to my request. 7 I also said to the king, "If it please the king, let me have letters addressed to the governors of the province west of the Euphrates River, instructing them to let me travel safely through their territories on my way to Judah. 8 And please give me a letter addressed to Asaph, the manager of the king's forest, instructing him to give me timber. I will need it to make beams for the gates of the Temple fortress, for the city walls, and for a house for myself." And the king granted these requests, because the gracious hand of God was on me.

9 When I came to the governors of the province west of the Euphrates River, I delivered the king's letters to them. The king, I should add, had sent along army officers and horsemen to protect me. 10 But when Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite official heard of my arrival, they were very displeased that someone had come to help the people of Israel.

In week one of The Good Work, we discussed Nehemiah's burden to help rebuild his city.

Jerusalem was in ruins, and many Hebrews/Jews refugees had scattered and were _____ to the city to their previous homeland.

Nehemiah's _____ helped him embark on his _____.

The burden you bear will often reveal the calling you will embrace.

You rarely know when you are on the cusp of something _____.

Here's how we got here:

- In 587 B.C. Nebuchadnezzar and the Babylonians attacked Jerusalem
- Destroyed the city and took the Jewish people captive
- 140 years later, many descendants were returning to help rebuild
- But no hope, no leadership and no direction

Nehemiah did not have a formal _____ but he had an incredible _____.

1. Do your job - seek God _____

Twelve times, we see evidence of Nehemiah praying before he acts.

Imagine the fear he faced asking the king for help!

It's impossible to understand how tricky it was to approach a king. Eastern kings of that time were protected from burdens, unpleasant news, threats and problems.

It was Nehemiah's job to help _____ the king and now he _____ the king. But he seemed to find a place in the king's heart.

Nothing is too big for God's power and too small for God's heart.

2. Do your job - define the vision _____.

For most people, it's not a _____, it's a lack of _____.

Last week, Nehemiah asked himself what can I do? Now the king asks, what can I do?

Nehemiah was specific - send me to Judah to help.

If you can't define it, you can't do it.

3. Do your job - make plans _____.

A goal without a plan is just a wish.

Success isn't the accomplishment in the future. The first step to success is doing the right thing today.

When you seek God faithfully, define the vision clearly and make plans carefully, this _____.

Inspire people to have faith that God is _____ and God is _____.

"Light yourself on fire with passion, and people will come from miles to watch you burn" - John Wesley

The burden you bear often reveals the difference you will make.
